BRYAN'S SPEECHES DOING GOOD

Senator Teller Says the Rumor that Bryan Will Be Called Off Is False. Lexington, Ky., September 20.-Senator H M. Teller, who spoke at Ashland Saturday, passed through the city today on his way to Somerset, where he speaks tomorrow. In an interview he said:

"There is absolutely no truth in the ory told by Mr. Thurston to the effect that the national committee is dissatisfied with Mr. Bryan's speeches and intends to put a stop to his tour. I left the committee just before coming to Kentucky and had a long talk with several of its members. They assured me that Mr. Bryan's work was bringing forth abundant fruit and that his speeches were exactly proper, and that they had no idea of calling him in. On the contrary, their only fear was that he would be unable physically to continue the campaign up to the election. I will compare Mr. Bryan's speeches with those being made by Mr. McKinley. I have known both men for years and I have no hesitancy in saying that Mr. Bryan is the equal of Mr. McKinley, morally and mentally, and as a statesmen he is his superior. Mr. Bryan's opponents are prosecuting a shameful campaign. They have made it a campaign of slander and abuse. They know that they are fals:fying when they say that Mr. Bryan is an anarchist and, in fact, they do not believe Nominee a Sure Winner. Chicago, September 20 .- Speaking of the democratic-populistic organization in the west and south, the present outlook for Bryan getting enough votes to win, J. G. Johnson, of Kansas, a member of the national compaign committee at western demperatic headquarters, said today to a reporter of the Southern Associated Press: "When Senator Jones and his associates began the headquarters work of this campaign, a line was drawn around a certain number of states which could be depended apon to cast their electoral votes for Mr. Bryan. Then a few more states which we could not be sure of were added, making the total vote more than enough to elect our man. In this latter class of states the silver sentiment has been hardening steadly and the results of our organization work to date give no indication that McKinley can carry any of these states we are conentrating our work upon. I would not like to name these states, because it would leave the impression in some minds that we had cast off certain states not included and which are not lost to Mr. Bryan by any

'It is only necessary for us to carry two big western states, such as Minnesota, Indiana, Iowa or Illinois, to turn the electoral vote over to Mr. Bryan. Then Mr. Kerens comes to the republican headquarters and tells

Mrs. Pope is in feeble health and she Mr. Hanna the state is gone. That is a fair illustration of how things have been going with us since we came here. Now, notwithstanding what General Grosvenor says, we stand as good a chance of carrying Illinois. Captain McConville, of our speakers department, tells me that by October 15th we will have the enemy in as close a corner as they ever were in their lives, and he knows something about his state. In Michigan there is the strongest an's success. The party is thoroughly united and we have the benefit of republican republicans at their best had 50 per cent of the total vote of Michigan, and reliable party workers in every section outside of Cook county have compiled their estimates, and say that Mr. Bryan will come up to the Desplains river with 40,000 majority. ARREST OF GOLDEN WILL DEFEAT BRECKINRIDGE.

Charged with Attempting To Assault Mrs. J. J. Pope.

EXCITEMENT AT TALLAPGUSA

Golden and the Husband of the Lady Both Prominent Populists.

ARE CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE AT PRESENT

Their Wives are Cousins and Golden Was on a Visit at the Time the Crime Was Charged.

Tallapoosa, Ga., September 20 .- (Special)-An attempted assault on the wife of Hon J. J. Pope, who lives a few miles from this place, is reported to have been made by W. A. Golden, populist nominee for sheriff of this county, who is a cousin of W. F. Golden, the populist candidate for senator from this district. Mr. Pope was the representative from this county in the last legislature, and is now the populist nomine for the same place. He has resided in this community all his life, is a primitive Baptist preacher, and no man stands higher than he for truth and veracity.

Messrs. Pope and Golden are members of the same church, the wives of the two men are cousins, and Mr. Pope says that he had unbounded confidence in Golden. He says that, on last Monday, the 14th, he saw Golden in Tallapoosa, and that Golden told him he was canvassing the county for sheriff, and thought he would go into his (Pope's) district before he returned home when Mr. Pope replied that he was then on his way to Buchanan, being one of the board of registrars, to assist in completing the work of the board in making up the list of voters of the county; that he would not be at home any more until Saturday evening, the 19th, but that his wife and son were at home, and that he and they would be glad to have him (Golden) cal and spend a night any time it suited him.

What Pope's Wife Charges. Mr. Pope says that he himself then went to Buchanan, where he remained until late Saturday evening and then went to his home, a distance of ten or twelve miles, and that on his arrival at home, some time after dark, he found his wife in a distressed condition of mind, and he was then informed by her that some time after dark on Thursday night, the 17th, Golden went to his home and put up for the night; that his wife and his son, aged about twenty, and a little daughter, about twelve years old, were there; that, after a good supper, they all remained up in pleasant conversation until about 11 o'clock, when all retired for the night, Golden and the son occupying separate beds and the wife and little girl sleeping together. The wife says she was awakened about 2 o'clock in the morning by Golden, on her bed in an attempt to commit an assault. when, with superhuman strength, she released herself from him by desperate strug-

If Denny Is In the Bace Silver Men

ATLANTA. GA., MONDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 21, 1896.

Will Carry the Ashland District. Lexington, Ky., September 20 .- (Special.) The race for congress in the famous old Ashland district has reached a sensational point, now that Judge George Denny, Jr. has announced himself a republican candidate for congress from this district. Be fore his announcement it was tacitly understood that the entire republican strengti of 13,000 votes would go to Breckinridge but Denny insisted on running and as he is unpopular with the 7,000 republican colored voters of the district, it is conceded that Denny cannot be elected, as the negroes propose to run a candidate of their own. Colonel Breckinridge, if Denny does no draw off, will be forced to retire from th race, as he cannot expect to get even 5,000 gold standard democratic votes, which would leave thirteen or fourteen thousand votes for the silver candidate. It is believed that the national republican committee will be called on to persuade Judge Denny to withdraw and thus allow a gold standard man to be sent to congress from this noted district. Many prominent epublicans are in favor of nominating Breckinridge on the republican ticket over Denny, and a movement among young republicans is already on foot to organize a young men's Breckinridge republican club.

BISMARCK AND BIMETALLISM. Independent Action by the United States Would Exert Influence.

for his views on bimetallism; Friedrichsruhe, August 24, 1896.—Honored Sir: Your esteemed favor has been duly received. I hold that this is the very hour that would be advisable to bring about beaween the nations chiefly engaged in the world's commerce a mutual agreement in favor of the estab-lishment of bimetallism. The United States are freer by far in their movements than any nation of Europe, and hence if the people of the United States should find it compatible with their interests to take independent action in the direction of bimetallism, I can but believe that such action would exert a most salutary influence upon the consummation of internal agr

HURT IN A HEAD-END COLLISION Two Trains Dash Together and Nine People Are Kurt.

Britte, Mont., September 20.-A conflict of dispatcher's orders resulted in a head-end collision between a mixed train on the Montana Union road and an incoming passenger train from Salt Lake, on the Union Pacific at 12:20 o'clock today, seven miles west of Butte.

The engineers reversed their engines when the collision was apparent, and, together with both train crews, saved their ives by jumping.

Both trains had been running at a good rate of speed, and the collision was ter-rific. The engines and several freight cars on the mixed train and the baggage, mall car and smoker on the passenger were wrecked to a shapeless mass. A dozen men were in the smoker, and, although it took several hours to extricate them, none were seriously injured. The passengers in the other coaches escaped with a severe shaking up. The injured are: Julius Jacobs, Butte: A. B. Jones, Ogden; Matthew M. Burdick, Ogden; John Murray, Leadville: Dunn Green, Leadville;

Quinn Murphy, Leadville; James O'Brien, Eureka; Charles F. Justin, Salt Lake; J. Kelly, Cripple Creek. The injured were brought to the Butte ospital.

Dynamite Plot a Trick Upon the Czar. International Woman's Congress To Meet-Czar's Arrival.

Berlin, September 20.-Before starting for

henlohe, the imperial chancellor, paid a visit to Count von Munster-Ledenburg, German ambassador to France, who is spend ing his holidays at his estate in Hanover. Count von Munster will return to Paris or October 5th, and it is needless to say that as the result of the visit of Prince Hohenlohe he is fully primed as to the attitude he is expected to observe throughout the sourn of the czar at the French capital, which, it is understood, is to keep in the background and watch events.

Prince Hohenlohe will remain in Styria a fortnight, but he has his plans for the conduct of internaional matters during his absence from Berlin fully mapped out, and everybody concerned is fully instructed in his line of procedure. Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, German minister of foreign affairs is now in Baden but his leave of absence will end on October 12th. In view of the absence of the chief minister of the government for the next three weeks the foreign office certainly cannot be very greatly concerned over an immediate crisis in the east. What little diplomatic activity exists now centers in Vienna. The Hon. Michael Herbert, who so efficiently acted as the substitute of Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador to Turkey during the recent absence of the latter in England, is on his way to England on leave of absence. He remained four days in Vienna, leaving there on Friday. While he was staying in the Austrian capital Mr. Herbert had three interviews with Count Goluchow ski, the Austrian minister of foreign affairs who is very plainly showing his desire to make for himself a historic name as a statesman by taking the initiative in dealing with the sultan. Only time can decide whether he is a fussy intermeddler or a far-sighted politician. Mr. Herbert, according to reliable advices which have been received here, advised Count Goluchowski to dis-regard the oft-repeated Turkish menaces of general massacre of Christians in Turkey If the powers collectively, or England alone should send a fleet to Conmantinople Mr. Herbert does not believe that the sultan possesses the power to effect a general slaugh-ter of Europeans in the Turkish capital city and he so expressed himself to Count Golu-chowski. Mr. Herbert has also been permitted to repeat to the Austrian foreign minister his estimate, which he sent to the British foreign office of the forces on land and at sea which would be necessary to keep order at Constantinople in the even that the sultan should be deposed. Ministerial Conference in Vienna. Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, presided over a ministerial council in Vienna on Friday, at which Count Goluchowski, minister of foreign affairs; Count Badeni, prime minister; Baron Banffy, Hungarian premier, and Baron Kalley de Nagy-Kallo, chief of the imperial financial department, were present. This council is the last that will be held before the emperor starts his programme, his work beginning with the Galician military maneuvers and the Hungarian maneuvers inaugurating the iron gates of the Danube canal and his visit to Bucharest. Since the council was held the semi-official press of Vienna have continued their attacks upon Lord Salisbury without abatement The Berlin official clrle seems to have got an inkling of the change in the Austrian policy which is less pro-Russian than formerly. Probably a factor influencing Count Goluchowski in deiding upon the council that the dissolution of the Hungarian parilament had been fixed to take place in October and tha the new parliamentary elections would be held in November. These events, he said, must not be accompanied by the reproach that Hungary had been made a tool of the czar. The anti-Turkish meetings which have been held in the various populous centers throughout Germany show a rapidly in-creasing concern in the massacre of Chris-tians in the sultan's dominion. The Catholie clergy has not as yet taken so active a part in the agitation as the Protestant cler-gy has, but the Catholic laity is subscribing iberally to the Armenian relief funds and the centrist newspapers urge the necessity of dealing with the sultan promptly, vigorusly and finally. Dr. Lieber, the leader of the centrist party in the reichstag, proposes to demand that the government adopt an unequivocal policy in regard to the Turkish massacres of Christians just as on as the reichstag resumes its sittings The Reichbote, a conservative organ oours out torrents of wrath at the alleged German apathy in the matter of the slaughter of Christians, but the question is whether or not Germany is apathetic. It is true that the government suppresses any tenlency on the part of the semi-official press oward public excitement against the porte, et from every quarter of the empi signs that the great political parties, the conservative, centrists, national liberal and freisinnige are waking up and will make it impossible for the existence of a governnent having no distinctive German policy in regard to Turkey, merely saying "ditto" o the Russian or Ausrian policy.

The English so-called dynamite plot is suspected here, where police dodges possibly better known than in England, as being a trick upon the czar. The National Zeitung in an article on the subject sava that the English newspapers have ma fremendous commotion over the affair, their articles being obviously aimed at operating upon the sensibilities of the czar. The Vossische Zeitung, however, expresses belief that there really is, or was, a Fenan anarchist conspiracy, though the paper is not aware how widely divergent Fen-ianism and anarchism are. The Vorwaerts, organ of the socialists, views the matter naturally as a police plot and as-sails Chief Inspector Melville, of the Scot-land Yard police, as the foster father of the Berlin anarchists. The Neueste Nach-richten and many other newspapers express self to energetic action against the an-archist pestilence which nurses at her bosom, and join the continental govern-ments in the adoption of measures for its total extinction.

International Woman's Congress. The first international woman's congress was opened here Saturday in the great hal, of the Berlin city buildings, and its sessions will last a week. Six hundred women dele the day was devoted to a reception of the delegates. The matters of international importance to be discussed are the woman's rights question, upon which F. G. French, of Washington, and Mrs. Mary Wright Sewall, c. Indianapolis, will speak, among others. The following days will be devoted to the discussion of questions affect roted to the discussion of questions affecting the protection of children, early education in female schools, employment of women, wages, hours and kindred subjects. In the discussion upon the subject of working women's clubs, Mrs. Thomas Kirkbridge, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Ormiston Chant, of London, will speak and those ledler, with others, will speak, and these ladies, with others, will also address the congress upon the fight of woman against alcohol and other themes, including woman's suffrage and provision for the orphan poor. It is quite plain that the congress will have a big field to traverse. The socialist executive committee have placed upon the agenda book of the congress demands for woman's suffrage and equal rights for women with men. A meeting of female socialists has appointed special delegates to the congress. Conserable opposition is expected in the congress. gress against the question of women's rights and the admission of certain delegates. The executive committee want to quash the motions for discussing these uestions, if possible. The Kreuz Zeitung announces that the conservatives of Germany are beginning to share the indignation of the people of Egypt at the sultan's inhuman government, but do not favor the English demand for the deposition of the sultan. The best scheme to be followed, the paper thinks, would be the formation of a Eu-ropean commission to control the sultan and his ministers by making the appointment of the latter as well as the appointment of territorial governors subject to the approval of the ambassadors.

SERIES OF CABINET COUNCILS.

Parliament Will Meet in January and Work Will Be Mapped Out. London, September 20 .- A series of cabinet councils will begin about the middle of October, continuing with the needful inervals till the end of November. Parliament, according to ministerial arangements made prior to the recess, will esume on or about January 10th. The measures which the ministers have to discuss council include a revised education bill. a military works bill and probably an Irish local government measure. The return to Constantinople of Sir Philip Currie, British ambassador to Turkey, has not yet resulted in any public developments English papers, which at first threw doubt had determined to take independent action against the sultan in the event of further massacres, now admit that there are signs of "a stronger British policy," which will venture far in direct coercion of the porte. It must be confessed, however, that this policy seems slow of application.

DONGOLA HAS BEEN CAPTURED. Dervishes Are Driven Back and Lose Their Provisions.

Cairo, September 20 .- A dispatch from the Anglo-Egyptian expedition, states that Dongola, the objective point of the expelition, has been taken without meeting with any resistance from the dervishes, the place being unoccupied.

The dispatch adds that the town of El Hafir, north of Dongola, to which place the dervishes retreated yeserday, was captured after a hot engagement. After the place had fallen into the hands of the expedition the Egyptians captured twenty-seven grain-laden boats, the loss of which will prove a se vere blow to the dervishes. The latter them by the troops and the gunboats, and they were finally compelled to abandon their attempts to regain possession of the boats and their cargoes.

After their defeat he entire dervish force retreated southward upon Dongola. At the same time the expedition's steamers started for the same place, and being the quicker reached there before the dervishes. The city was found to be deserted by the warriors and the steamers at once landed a force of infantry to hold is until the arrival of the main body of the expedition It is expected that as the dervishes are without food or other stores that they will make a most desperate attempt to again get possession of Dongola.

INTHE BRYAN COLUMN

North Carolina Will Give the Democratic Nominee 40,000 Majority.

GROUNDS FOR ALARM

The Tar Heel State Will Prove Her Devotion to the Principles of Democracy.

A. H. Lewis in The New York Journal. Raleigh, N. C., September 20.-Three weeks ago North Carolina as to the presidential outcome was clothed with doubt. Now demograts declare, and republicans nit, there is no chance for it to be otherwise than for Bryan, Sewall and free silver

Going about the state from Asheville to Raleigh, talking with many of the best posted of both sides, I find it today to be the general verdict that the state is demo-cratic by not fewer than 15,000 majority. This is the republican figure. The democrats put the mark as high as 40,000.

The doubt as to the outcome three weeks ago sprang from the divided condition populists and democrats. There had been no fusion, and at that time it looked dark for the proposed coming together The populists were of a vainglorious spirit. They demanded more than the democrats cared to surrender as the price of party partnership. Now matters are much modified. The populists no longer strut peacockishly. They are nearer justice in their claims democrats on their part are letting out a generous link or two in the negotia tions, and the certainty has ripened that fusion between populists and democrats is sure in the coming fight.

democrats have as the basis fusion offered the populists five of the eleven electors. The populists are considering within themselves this proposal of their free silver neighbors. The verity that they will accept. The result will be that the democrats will name six electors and the populists five, and the eleven will unite as the sole ticket of free silver against the Hanna ticket and decoy Palm -Ruckner ticket, both for gold, should a ticket of the latter sort be mamed. This last is doubtful. The two electo at-large have been named, but it is a chanc that election day will dawn and no Palmer-Buckner set of electors as nominees exist on the list of North Carolina tickets. There would be little or no purpose in naming any such ticket here. There are no gold democrats inhabiting these parts; neithe are there any cuckoo followers, of Cleve landism, whose politics need a perch of refuge until after the subsidence of the silver flood now on the flow.

No "Decoy" Ticket Probable. It would therefore, as stated, befall that the ordinary reasons for a Palmer-Buckne decoy ticket do not raise their fool-heads in North Carolina politics, and so, lacking the reasons, the state is fairly certain to finally lack the ticket itself.

No one knows of a vote it would ge should a Palmer-Buckner ticket be named The few gold democrats who abide here abouts will vote sensibly for McKinley There's hardly enough of them, however to make a baseball nine, should any sudder taste for such sport seize on them,

There are 350,000 males of voting age this state by the last census. As there i little or no foreign element, they are all eligible to vote save a handful disqualified by crime. Of these 350,000 ordinarily 50,000 tay at home and 300,000 vote.

Democrats estimate that in this election the republicans should not get more than The republican vote has been The democrats allowing, therefore for gold democrats turning McKinleyward as well as for that number who are driver against their will by their employers to vote for McKinley, give them 15,000 more Being generous, they deduct nothing for silver republicans who go to Bryan, albeit they declare that such exist in flocks and

They figure that the whole vote of the state will run between 275,000 and 300,000, and that the democrats will carry it b not less than 50,000. The fusion of populists and democrats means, they say, the joinder of 60,000 populists and 130,000 demo-

In the past, republican oney has more than once worked thi black chance for all it is worth, and it is anticipated that the republicans this tim with hands and pockets full of McKinle syndicate money, will put through what dark-lantern fraud they can.

'Already in the mountain region about said the Hon. Cy Watson, democratic nominee for governor, while con-versing with me at Asheville, "we have information of upward of three hundred Carolina during the last thirty days, settled about Asheville, and who now claim residence here. They will register and try to vote. They have, I've no moral doubt, and I expect finally to have the actual proof, been settled here from South Carolina by republican money. After the election they will go back. These negro are creeping into all the black quarters of

Have No Doubt of Success.

While Watson and others of the democrats know that the blacks from South Carolina are being imported into North Carolina by the Hannacrats, they are still confident of Bryan carrying the state. Un-til this campaign the democrats and populists never talked or tried fusion. They turned their backs on each other and poked and fed the fires of mutual hate.

Especially did the democrats affect to de spise the populists socially. To be a re-publican in the south is for a white man to be decidedly "queer." No one is eage for his company socially, and society He is overlooked and mightily ignored as one tainted by a part nership in politics with the negroes.

When the populists invented themselves and particularly when they afterward, as they did in this state, began to hobnob with the loathed republicans, they came in for even a larger load of southern contempt than the republicans

The White Republicans. This has a reason easy to reach. white republicans, as a rule, were inter lopers, carpet baggers; at the worst, they were only hated as aliens, the left-over fragments of yankee invasion in the sixtles, a fashion of political weed that gre infested the fields of the after the rough ploughing and sub-soiling of the civil war. e populists who came along later was not an alien, not a carpet bagger. was and is as much a native of North Cara as Wade Hampton, as Matt Ransom, the bluest blood of them all. His foot s as much upon his native heath as theirs And for this very reason, seeing in his case not even the palliation of allenism, the North Carolina democrat hated and despised the North Carolina populist to a point that all but gave the party apoplexy. The popul'st was "a traitor," "an aposthate," "poor, white trash," "Buckra," and rything else the southern aristocrat held in despite and spat upon as vile Populists and Republicans.

Therefore, the democrats would not so lower their pride as to fuse with populists. set their faces hard as flint agains vaited for it to die. But it die, and in the course of time the republi-cans, not so particular in taste as were the old-time democrats, struck hands with the populists, and together they carried the state. Thus it was that Butler, populist, and Pritchard, republican, were last yea senators, and those seats sup to be sacred to such as Hampton, Zel Vance and others of the purple blood, fell according to democratic notion, into the hands of the Huns.

But it taught the democratic party a lesson. It came off its high horse, and today a fusion of free silver and Bryan is sure between the populists and democrats, and that fusion should, unless the frauds of the Hannacrats are multiplied beyond the blackest experience, assuredly carry

The Terms of Fusion. The five populist electors on the fusion ticket will vote for Watson for vice president; the others whom the democrats name will vote for Sewall. All, of course, will vote for Bryan. I cannot but believe, from all I've seen and heard, that, after all the rauds of which the Hannacrats are versed with him, said:

"Until two weeks ago there would be no ise denying that North Carolina was doubtful state. Undoubtedly two-thirds of the sentiment of the state is for free silver. This is true of every party here populists, republicans and democrats. They are all for free silver. You will recall that at St. Louis National Committee man Mott told Hanna and all the rest that a gold plank would kill the last republican chance of carrying the state. In a partial way Mott was right. Still, had the fusion which existed between the republicans and populists been carried into this campaign. with the help of McKinley money and frauds among the negroes, the Hanna peo le might have carried the state. I think

Gold Plank Drove Away Populists. "But as it turned out, the very gold dank which Mott opposed at St. Louis drove the populists to the democrats. They couldn't support McKinley on a gold plat-form; they were compelled to support Bryan on a free silver platform. While fusion between the democrats and popuists has not as yet been formally declared it is practically an accomplished fact. There will be but one free silver ticket in the field, and it is my present best judgnt that it will sweep the state by The state is now as safely Bry

THREE RECORDS WERE SMASHED Knickerbocker Athletic Club Showed Good Work Saturday.

New York, September 20 .- Two world reords and one American record were broken Saturday afternoon at the fall game of the Knickerbocker Athletic Club. Thomas E. Burke, the great Boston sprinter, started the record smashing in the six-hundred-yard run by clipping off twofifths of a second from the best previous mark of 1:11 2-5, which was held by Lon Myers, of the old New York Manhattan Athletic Club fame.

The next record to be broken was in the discus throwing contest, Richard Sheldon, of Yale, sending it more than ten feet further than has ever before been recorded. His two competitors also broke the world's record with the discus.

J. B. Connolly, of the Suffolk Athletic Club, established a new American record for the running two hops and a jump, he going the distance of forty-nine feet and half an inch, which is one foot and four inches further than any athlete in this country has been able to go.

HOPED TO SECURE A REWARD

Thomas Speidt Arrests Jake Brown and Then Brown Arrests Speidt and Prefers Charges.

A veritable "comedy of errors" was enact-A white man arrested a negro thought to have escaped from a convict camp. At the same time the negro thought he recognized in the white man another convict who had escaped from the same place Both came to the station house last night thinking they had made a big catch, for which they would be fully rewarded. It happened, however, that neither was the right convict, and both decided to re-ease the other. Thomas Speight, the white man, lives on apitol avenue, outside the city limits. Yesterday morning he saw a negro loiterng in the woods near his home, and he readily came to the conclusion that some mischief was brewing. The negro finally appeared at Speight's home and asked for ome bread. Speight knew of Berry Mathews, a negro convict, who had from the Pratt mines in Alabama several weeks ago, and also that there was a liberal reward offered for his capture. Speight thought the convict was before

At the same time Jacob Brown, the ne gro, knowing that Bennie Smith, a white man, had escaped from the same mines several months ago, and anxious to reap the reward, thought he had found the right man in the person of Speight. Neither had ever seen the other before, but the negro had once been a convict in the Pratt mines, and consequently knew the escaped white man. The two men stood looking at each other thinking exactly the same though Speight, however, acted first. He summo d the aid of his brother and they bound he negro tightly with ropes, and telegraphed for a description of the escaped negro convict, escorted Brown to

As soon as Brown divined he was sus pected, he thought it best to wait until he arrived at the station house before he had his captor arrested on the same charge. In a short while the telegram arrived from Alabama giving the description of the escaped negro, and in no way did it compare with Brown.

Then it was that the negro thought he and better capture his game. He stated he knew Speight was an escaped convict and that there was a reward offered for his arrest. There were comparisons of descriptions again, and Speight no more compare with the convict he had been taken for than the negro.

There were then many regrets expressed and a reconciliation between two disappointed men. Both had hoped to reap big reward from the other

TEXAS DEMOCRATIC CLUBS MEET One Hundred and Fifty-Four Organi zations Convene.

Dallas, Tex., September 20.—One hundred and fifty-four clubs were represented in the state convention of democratic clubs held in this city yesterday, representing an en-rolled membership of 30,000 voters. A telegram of congratulation, indorsement and encouragement was sent to W. J. Bryan, at Washington, D. C., pledging Texas to give him at least 200,000 majority.

Twenty-six delegates and alternates for the state at large were selected to attend the national convention of democratic clubs to be held in St. Louis on October 3d. The state organization of placed under the direction and manage of the state executive committee the democratic party.

THACHER MAKES A STATEMENT.

Announces that His Vote Will Be Cast for Bryan and Sewall. Albany, N. Y., September 20.-Mayor John

Boyd Thacher this evening gave out the folowing statement: "Albany, N. Y., September 19, 1896.-Hon Elliott Danforth, Chairman of the State Democrtic Committee, New York City. Dear Sir: I am informed by the public press and by individual delegates that the demo cratic party of the state, in convention as sembled at Buffalo. on September 17, 1896, did me the honor of naming me as its candidate for the high office of governor. now learn that the state committee is t meet on Tuesday for the purpose of appoint ng a committee to officially notify me of

"It has seemed to me due to your commit tee that before it takes that step I should make a statement. I cannot ask for the confidence and support of the people of the state without frankly declaring my position pon the financial issue now agitating the I stand today where I stood i nonth of June, in the presence of a con vention of the state democracy have not changed an iota in belief nor deviated a step in The commercial ourse. honor this nation is pledged to the world, and the whole world knows that the nation will maintain its honor. I took part in the state sent the party in the national convention at Chicago. Those delegates, by participa-tion, acquiesced in the action of the national convention in presenting candidates for the office of president and vice presiden of the United States. The state conventio of the democratic party has ratified the ination of these candidates. I have earned from the fathers, and in turn have endeavored to teach, that the democratic party is a vehicle to carry the will of the people into effect. Such a vehicle is con-tructed with difficulty, but it is easily destroyed. Failure now and then to perform bsolutely satisfactory service will tify the utter destruction of the vehicle but many and various burdens, "When the financial burden is finally dis

sed of, the people will still employ the emocratic party to support their purp and to carry them into effect. When they do thus employ the party, I, for one, do not want it to be shattered and dismembered, but to be strong, united and efficien Therefore, I shall cast my vote for William Jennings Bryan and Arthur Sewall, the candidates, in due and regular form chosen by a majority of that conrention. I regret that I cannot be in full accord on the question of finances the sentiment of the late convention, but if my political position seems inharmoniou with the usual attitude of a candidate to ward his party it should be remembered that the conditions are also unusual. In ominating me I must assume that convention was not unaware of my financial views as expressed in my public utterances, and that it was induced to ac cord me that distinguished honor in view of the fact that under the constitution a governor of this state has no official co nection whatever with matters pertaining to the national currency. It was apparent at Chicago and Buffalo, and is expressed at any gathering of citizens where public questions are discussed, that the people are dissatisfied with the present conditions of public affairs people are dissatisfied with the present conditions of public affairs, and I am in sympathy with every movement, not revolutionary in character, which seeks to take burdens from the shoulders of the masses and to restore prosperity and peace to all the people. When the republican legislature adjourned in May, 1896, it left a record behind it which every democratic and independent voter in the state believed would be at is-sue before the people this fall. No ques-tion purely national should be permitted to divert our people in this state election from pronouncing, by a change of adminis-tration, a verdict against this record.

"The people have destroyed all vestiges of a political boss in the democratic party and I believe they will annihilate bossism in the republican party. It is not im portant that I or any other particular in-dividual should be elected governor. It is important that the power of one man should not be perpetuated by two years more of republican executive control Yours, JOHN BOYD THACHER."

POPULIST AND DEMOCRAT MEET North Carolina Leaders Considering Fusion Again.

Raleigh, N. C., September 20.—(Special.)—Wilson, state committeeman of the populist party, has been making a tour of the state for the purpose of ascertaining the populist sentiment regarding electoral fu-sion with the democrats.

The tour was made under direction of the state committee.
Wilson was also told to ascertain, as far as possible, democratic views on this ques tion. He says in his reports that he fo much opposition to the idea among both parties. Tomorrow afternoon the populist state central committee meets and the democratic state committee meets a few lours later. So far as members will express themselves, there are assurances that there will be fusion Populist Chairman Ayer sounded a little note of uncertainty when he said he was not sure where the lightning would strike.

emocratic state chairman was told yesterday that many populists opposed electoral fusion. They give only one ground for it—that they have no confidence in for it—that they have no confidence in democratic promises and believe the democrats would, if there is a division of electors, play false to Watson. They admit, at the same time, that there is equal doubt of many of their own party voting for Sewall. Many populists are writing him, saying they do not want to vote for Sewall.

Republicans are trying in many ways to prevent electoral fusion. The populists heard the rumor that there was to be a conference of democrats at Washington resterday to consider the matter of taking lown Sewall, and they promptly special envoy there. Inquiry was made why the populists nominated a candidate for congress in the fifth district, democrat, and extreme free sil verman, was fighting Settle, republican, so hard there. The populist state chairman

"We put up A. J. Dalby there so the people could vote for a free silver man. Some populists don't like Kitchen." The populists nominated D. S. Moss, of Halifax county, for congress in the second district. They will also nominate in the nth district. They declare they all want o beat Pearson and that he is not popular et many say they do not want to elect Adams, democrat.

Spalding Democrats Condemn The Call for Its Publications. Griffin, Ga., September 20.—(Special.)—The Spalding county democratic club held its regular meeting Friday night. It now has a membership of over 210 in this district alone. There was a large attendance. After a little discussion, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: "Resolved. That we unequivocally and unreservedly condemn the manner in which The Morning Call, a paper professing to be democratic, is using its columns and influence to thwart the earnest efforts of this club to solidify the democracy of this county and roll up a round democratic majority for all the candidates on the rational, state and county tickets. That we go into committee of the whole for the burpose of writing an open letter to more fully express these views and to refute the libels made upon the party's leaders and workers by the articles in The Call, and that said after be signed by the president and secretary as the action of the club."

The letter, which was prepared and addressed to the editor of the paper in ques-tion, is a salty document, half a column in length. It is a strong protest against the policy of the paper in publishing attacks of the Columbus public schools will begin, nor Atkinson. The Duncan circulars, about which so much has been said, are referred to, and of them this open letter says:

"We are southern men and interested as much as anybody in the protection of our race against outrages and the public against crime; but we believe in doing justice to all alike—to Governor Atkinson as well as the man he pardoned. While we have had no hand in the distribution of these circulars, we do not propose that they shall be turned against our own party in any such way.

to Speak-Public Schools Open. Waterworks Question, Etc.

Columbus, Ga., September 20 .- (Special.)-Arrangements have been made for a big democratic rally here on next Thursday night, at which addresses will be made by prominent and popular democrats. Sena-ter Bacon and Hon. H. Warner Hill, of Meriwether, have been secured and Gov ernor Atkinson will probably come also. The rally will be a rousing one and the speakers will be greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience. In the absence of Chairman Gilbert, of the central campaign committee of Muscogee county, who is attending the Ryder trial at Talbotton, Judge A. W. Cozart is conducting the camaign in Muscogee. On yesterday he rethat Senator Bacon could come to Columbus next Thursday. Mr. Hill, of Meriwether, a popular and eloquent orator, can also be here on that date. Governor Atkinson has stated that he will visit Columbus sometime during the campaign, and a strong effort will be made to get his excellency to make the promised visit on this occasion. These speakers are all well known and will not fail to bring out a large crowd. Muscogee democracy is preparing for a big, rousing enthusiasm. The presence of Governor Atkinson, if he can come, will lend additional inspiration to the occasion.

Atkinson Was Cheered. There was a big republican rally at Cus-seta, in Chattahoochee county, yesterday at which speeches were made by Color.el R D. Locke, of Macon, and W. A. Pledge and C. C. Wimbish, of Atlanta. There were a large number of the colored republicans of the county present and the speakers were liberally applauded. His horse suddenly slipped, and falling, threw the rider to the ground. Luckily, however, the entire weight of the animal did not fall upon the officer or else he would have been seriously injured. As it was, he sustained painful injuries. The many friends of this popular officer greatly regret the accident.

The Waterworks Question. The petition now being circulated, that the council call an election for bonds for new waterworks, will receive a large number of signatures, if the first day is an indication of what will be done in this respect. There are two petitions, one confined to residents of the suburbs.

HARVEST WEEK AT VALDOSTA. Prizes Offered for Best Cotton-Tournament and Ball.

Valdosta, Ga., September 20.-(Special.)-The merchants and business men of Valosta have raised something over $1,000 for he purpose of celebrating the harvest sea the purpose of celebrating the harvest sea-son with a harvest week during the middle of November. They have put aside about $500 to go into twenty-five prizes for the best bales of cotton marketed here between now and that time. Six of these purses will be given for the best Florida cotton sold here, six for the best upland cotton brought to this market, and all the other prought to this market, and all the other purses will go to the farmers who bring in the highest grades of Georgia sea island cotton. Besides the delivery of the prizes, the week will be filled with festivities of different sorts, among them being an old-time tournament and coronation ball. The irnament was once very popular here, and there are some splendid riders here and in the towns near here. It is believed that the tournament will be a very popular feature, as many riders have already expressed their intention of entering into it.

The cotton receipts here have been twice as great as during last year and it is beed that the receipts for the year will be far in advance of last year. This is partly due to the fact that Valdosta cotton has been marketed much earlier than hereto-fore. Sea islands have been holding up in fore. Sea islands have been holding up in price fairly well, but owing to the fact that very little is being sold to the mills, it is feared that a lower price is coming for it. Politics in Valdosta and Lowndes county have assumed a little different shape than anything seen in the line here before, but the democratic ticket will be elected from top to bottom by a good majority. The Indianapolis ticket may get 200 votes in the county, but it is believed that Bryan and Sewall will carry the county by several hundred majority. Governor Atkinson has grown in popularity here and is probably stronger than he has ever been before. He will carry the county by a majority ranging from 350 to 500 majority.

In spite of the fact that Lowndes county has been the scene of a fearfully hard fight by the populists, and all sorts of efforts have been made to win over to another side, every democrat who was in the least dissatisfied with the party platform and nominees, the party is showing up stronger every day and will win out with ease in the elections. Hons. Hoke Smith and W. G. Brantley are booked for speeches here early in October, before the state election, and they will help in the cause a great deal. Brantley is putting up a pretty fight in every part of the district and is doing splendid service for the state ticket. price fairly well, but owing to the fact that

GOVERNOR INVITED TO COME TO FILL THE VACANT PULPIT

Senator Bacon and Hon. Warner Hill Caused by the Death of Dr. Lane Sketch of Dr. Walden-Will Be Notified at Once of His Call.

> Athens, Ga., September 20 .- (Special.)-The Presbyterian congregation this morning called a minister to succeed the late Dr. Charles W. Lane. Chancellor Bogg presided over the church neeting, which was largely attended, and there was but one spirit prevading the meeting; that spirit was one of absolute harmony. The unanimous choice of the congrega tion was soon made known by the call of Rev. Dr. J. W. Walden, of New Oreans, Ala. Dr. Walden will be notified and urged to accept.

Dr. Walden is one of the most powerful ministers of the southern Presbyterian church. He is a native of Alabama and is cated in Virginia, graduating at Hampden-Sidney college. Since his entry into the work of a min-ter he has filled important charges a Cincinnati, in Kentucky, in Alabama and New Orleans. Dr. Walden is now pastor of the Central Presbyterian church at New Orleans. Dr. Benjamin F. Palmer, the venerable Presbyterian divine, who ranks first among the ministers of that denomination in the south, in speaking of Dr. Walden says that he would consider it in the na-ture of a calamity for Dr. Walden to leave the New Orleans presbytery.

Dr. Walden declined to preach to the Presbyterian congregation here as a canlidate for the position of pastor, but the sentiment among the members was entirely one way and that sentiment resulted in Should Dr. Walden accept the call he will be the fifth pastor of the Athens Presbyterian church. This church was founded in 1820 by Rev. Moses Waddell, president of the University of Georgia, who was its pastor until 1830. From that time until 1866 Rev. Nathan Hoyt was pastor; then Rev. J. D. Burkhead was pastor until 1872, and Dr. C. W. Lane was its minister until his death this year. The field of usefulness for Mr. Walden will be a wide one here, especially among the young people. The Presbyterian congregation is so unanimous in its desire that Mr. Walden should accept the call that they will use every effort possible to induce him to come to Athens as their Contempt for the Farmers.

A Massachusetts gold organ is very angry with the western papers for reproducing the cartoons that have recently appeared in Puck and Judge caricaturing American farmers. Our opinion is that the Massachusetts organ would save space and time if it addressed its protest to the editors of Puck and Judge.

It is true that these cartoons are a disgrace to the organs that originate them, but after they have been originated and printed in New York, they ought to be given the widest possible circulation by the democratic journals of the country, to the end that the American farmers, republican and democratic, may which they are held by the organs of Wall street and the money power.

A reproduction in the democratic press of Judge's recent cartoon of the supreme court as the American farmers success of a principle. would have it, would be worth thousands of votes to Bryan.

New England Humor.

The Springfield Republican says that "Secretary Carlisle has at last disposed of the contention that the present silver dollar is a standard coin resting upon 'its own bottom,' equally with gold." In the same breath, and with that sly New England humor, which Dr. Holmes sometimes employed so happily. The Republican goes on to say that "the claim never had any other basis worth speaking of" except an official treasury statement signed by Carlisle, which declared that "gold coins and standard silver dollars, being standard coins of the United States, are not redeemable."

Our opinion is that The Republican is having a good deal of fun out of the present campaign; and, certainly, if any fun can be extracted out of the prevailing condition of business, the process is worthy of indorsement.

Not very long ago The Republican kicked up something of a dust by maintaining that, while independent free coinage would be iniquitous, the same results produced by international free coinage-namely, the cheapening of the dollar by rising prices-would be a strictly virtuous performance. The Constitution was inclined to take The Republican seriously, and endeavored to draw that able paper into a discussion to the end that the people might be enlightened as to the claim that what would be highly immoral for this republic to undertake would take on the odor of sanctity if carried out under the

The fact that The Republican has modestly declined to discuss the matter confirms the suspicion that its conten tion was simply an ebullition of New England humor of a somewhat more caustic character than usual. It is a pity, nevertheless, that The Republican will not discuss its own proposition. It is one that affords a fine field for the display of home brewed Berkshire humor. Besides, i would be in the nature of an object lesson to the shrewd New Englanders who have thus far been led to believe that every statement that emanates from a moneyed man or a banker is in the nature of gospel truth. The faith that Colton Mather and Jonathan Edwards had in the Bible has been transferred by their descendants into a blind be no surer way to defeat Bryan than the retirement of the candidate for rice resident, and that this fact was clearly inderstood by the Hanna gang. Such nfluence as the republican corruption ists can bring to bear in certain quarters has been exerted to the fullest extent to prevent the fusion of the democrats bribery scheme at Indianapolis makes that fact clear.

The following from Mr. Creelman's report will interest those of our readers who are not familiar with Arthur Sewall's record. In response to a question, he said:

"I believe in the Chicago platform, every word. The attempt to question my democracy is nonsense. I was born a democrat, and I have never lived in any other atmosphere. And it has not always been a pleasant political road to travel n this state during the last thirty years in this state during the last thirty years. Three or four years ago there were only two free silver men in this town—Mr. Torrey and myself. Remember that I have not been a politician, and that my training and associations have been those of a business man. I arrived at my present convictions regarding the necesspresent convictions regarding the neces sity for free silver by studying the quesion as a business man."
Mr. Sewall looked me full in the face

"And I can't understand why a shrewd man like you should not believe in free why anybody does not see that the coun ry can't stand these financial conditions r years longer. It is impossible." Congress may give relief if McKinley is elected," I suggested.

"No," said Mr. Sewall. "That means more bond issues shook my head. Yes, it means more bond issues. Mr. McKinley is elected there will be a bond issue within thirty days. Nothing can prevent it. Talk about trusts and moies-the greatest monopoly in the world is the gold monopoly. It is crushing the nation. Senator Lodge, in his t speech, declared that the gold standard was a good thing because the coun Try has been growing richer under it States has increased, but who is getting it? The trusts and corporations and syndicates. They alone have profited by the present monetary system. The poor have been growing poorer. The debtor class increases. Prices have fallen and fallen and fallen. I say it cannot last. I became a free silver man by looking at the matter as a busines man, and the more I study it the more I am convinced that there is no other salvation-possible for the people.

We think that no one can read that clear and unequivocal statement without feel ing that, whatever may be the belief of the small professional politicians, Arthur Sewall is the man for the place. A Maine democrat must necessarily b of the true-blue variety, and Mr. Sewall belongs to that class. He is not a politician, and he did not embrace the doc trine of free coinage with any hope of making political capital out of it. He studied the money question as a business man and a banker, and he came to favor the free coinage of silver be cause he knows that, while a few bankers and business men may reap ; temporary benefit from the gold standard, in the end they will reap a more substantial benefit from that sound and safe financial system which will bring prosperity to the people.

Among other things reported by Mr reelman was the remark of Mr. Sewal that, while he might be defeated and Bryan elected, yet he was thinking more get a clear idea of the contempt in of the success of free coinage than of the success of Sewall.

The hearts of the people will inevit ably go out to the man who thinks less of his own success than he does of the tions it is not at all surprising that Herr Most, the avowed anarchist, should be a warm advocate of the single gold standard.

Indeed a failure on his part to uphold the existing system of finance would be difficult to understand and the fact that he has come boldly out and announced himself in favor of McKinley is strictly in accordance with "the eternal fitness of things."

No one knows better than Herr Most himself that the ultimate, if not the immediate effect of bimetallism in this country will be to equalize conditions and restore to the masses that coveted prosperity of which they have so long been deprived. Such a condition of things, however, would be destructive to anarchy, and for that reason Herr Most is anxious for the maintenance of that standard which breeds distress and suffering among the masses. It is only in such a soil that anarchy can flourish, and with this conviction as the motive power behind him the avowed anarchist comes out from his hiding place and declares that he intends to labor both night and day for the success of the republican ticket. In reply to a correspondent in Denver Col., the anarchist thus affirms his position on the money question:

Dear Sir-I, like every other well-educated man, have expressed the opinion that at present gold only can be used as a proper standard of value because its costs of production are staple and alike all over the world, whereas silver is get ting cheaper and cheaper year by year. If therefore, the latter might be used as money, notwithstanding the facts stated above, it should be done according to its market value, that is, not 16 to 1, but (at this moment) 30 to 1, though that would render silver money very much inconvenient. The silver men had better to invent some new articles of luxury, make them fashionable and float all markets with them. That would be the proper way to get rid of all the superfluity of silver and make it useful.

I am otherwise no politician, but an an otherwise no politician, but an anarchist, and consequently do not care for any party in the arena of voting fights, which I regard as a monkey theater good for the amusement of big children. I believe in revolution and not in humbug. Yours respectfully,

JOHN MOST.

For the same reasons which -induce Herr Most to support the republican ticket every patriotic citizen of this ountry who believes in the preservation of law and order, should oppose it; and for the same reasons which inspire his opposition to the democratic ticket every zealous and sincere patriot should support it. What better reply to the charge of anarchy which the organs of the money power have preferred against the cause of bimetallism could possibly be made than simply to cite the attitude of Herr Most. If he felt that bimetallism would left to doubt Mr. Sewall's strong indi- promote the cause of anarchy in this viduality and the sincerity of his devo- country, is it at all reasonable to suppose, with such a record as the one deliberately uphold the single gold standard? Such a contention is manifestly too absurd to be entertained even for a moment. Herr Most is candid; he makes no disguise of the fact that he is an anarchist. On the contrary, he seems to enjoy the presage which that distinction gives him. Such is the pronounced and zealous character of the man and such his discriminating intelligence that the mere fact that he indorses the single gold standard suffices o prove that he believes in that standard as the best means toward the at ainment of his end.

In opposing bimetallism he virtually proclaims to the country that anarchy cannot possibly live under such a system.

To the visionary charges which are prought against the cause of bimetalism the advocates of free coinage merey point to the concrete and living refuation embodied in the personality of Herr Most.

Mr. Hobart as a Labor Champion. Within the last few days a little rolume has made its appearance in the ampaign which throws a calcium light ipon the record of Hon. Garret A. Hopart, of New Jersey, and incidentally affords some idea of his patriotism. No one has supposed, even for a moment, that Mr. Hobart's patriotism was of that pure and philanthropic type which is altogether free from the elenent of self-interest. Enough of his record has been disclosed since his mination to prevent the prevalence of such a false idea. Still not even his worst political enemy has dared to think that of him in such a selfish and nercenary light as the one in which he is presented to the public in the little book aforementioned.

If Mr. Hobart has a single aspiration in common with the great bulk of the American people, no trace of such a feeling can be found in this book. On the contrary, his entire life since reaching the age of maturity has been devoted to the service of corporate institutions. The following paragraph taken from his interesting volume shows the number of corporations with which the interests of Mr. Hobart are at present identified: Mr. Hobart is president of the Passale Water Company, supplying the city of Paterson; the Acquackanonk Water Company, supplying the city of Passaic; the Morris county railroad and the Paterson electric railway. He is a director of the Dundee Water Power and Land Company, New York; Susquehanna and Western railroad, the Lehigh and Hud son River railroad, the First National bank of Paterson, the Paterson Savings institution, the Liberty National bank of New York city, the Barbour Flax Spinning Company, the Barbour Bros.' Company, the Pioneer Silk Company, the People's Gaslight Company, the Passaic Gaslight Company, the Paterson Electric Light Company, the American Cotton Oil Company, of New York; the Citizen Insurance Company, of New York; the Long Branch Water Company, the Highland Water Company, and counsel for the East Jersey Water Company, the West Milford Storage Water Company, the Montclair Water Company and other allied interests; treasurer of the Cedar Lawn Cemetery Company, of Paterson, and of several land companies, and is president or director in at least a score of other corporations doing business in New Jersey and elsewhere. In the service of these corporations Mr. Hobart has accumulated a sufficient private fortune to make him available as a candidate for vice president of the United States on the republican ticket. Of course such a brilliant record is to be admired and, in many respects, it worthy of emulation, but wherein does the patriotism of the vice presi dential candidate consist? No one ever heard of Mr. Hobart's solicitude for the welfare of the American laborer prior to the accident of fortune which ushered him into the arena of national politics; nor is it at all likely, despite his earnest protestations on the subject, that he is weighted down with any excessive anxiety at

Men who devote themselves hear and soul to the service of great corpora tions are not given to spending their nights in sleepless concern for the toiling masses. The burden which rests upon them is not how the welfare of the laboring men of the country can be best promoted, but how the cause of organized wealth can be best served. Had the nomination for vice president fallen to the lot of some one else, n one would ever have heard of Mr. Hobart's friendship for the laboring man. The championship for labor which is born of the exigencies of a presidential campaign is not the championship which inspires confidence; and in the light of his own past record Mr. Hobart can hardly pose as a friend of labor without realizing in his own heart that he is both a humbug and a hypocrite.

Judge Adamson, democracy's standard bearer in the fourth district, has been inter viewed. He feels quite confident that the fourth will roll up an overwhelming demo cratic majority in both state and nationa elections. Judge Adamson has been stump-ing the district and, of course, is acquainted with the sentiment everywhere. He feels very much elated over the outlook. It is his opinion that Georgia will come forward this year with one of the largest democratic ma jorities in her history. He estimates it at no less than 60,000, and thinks that the figures may even go beyond this number. Sixty thousand he places as the minimum esti-

"Chairman Clay has recommended that the populists should have representation among the election managers. It rests with the counties to say whether this recommendation shall be carried 'hrough. The Press thinks it should be. The democratic executive committee in Gwinnett county decided to appoint a populist manager at every precinct. The democratic party is not the party of fraud. It wants a full and honset expression of the people. The ballot on the 7th of October, so far as machinery can make it, must be a pure ballot."

"Mr. Smith is a democrat of the old school and stood fast for its principles when the waves of cuckoolsm seemed about to sink the good old ship. His letter of acceptance has the right ring, and voices the position of a patriot."

Editor Martis, of The Liberty County Herald, has evidently been the recipient of a number of tender and solicitous epistles from boys who are willing to serve the state. Here is a card that explains itself: "Editor Constitution—Please state through your columns that I am not the nominee of the democrats for the legislature, nor am I a candidate, as it seems to be understood throughout the state that I am. At my personal request my name was not presented for consideration to the democratic body that made the nomination. Ex-Representative N. J. Norman, of Flemington, is our nominee. Respectfully.

Hon. Solon Chase, one of the most in mential party leaders of New England. was interviewed a few days ago on the money

"I believe free coinage of silver in this country would have the same effect as the discovery of gold in California and Australia had. This is, free coinage in this country would diminish the value of gold the world over and gradually raise prices in this country to a point near the gold level of 1880. So long as gold was at a premium it would be shorn of its monetary function and its purchasing power would diminish until the two metals would come practically together more largely by a fall in gold than a raise in silver.

There is no way to stop the appreciation of gold but by diminishing the demand for gold, and the demand for gold can be diminished the world over by restoring to silver its monetary functions in this coun-try. My object for the last twenty years as been to focus the public eye on the money question. Bryan at one stroke, in the Chicago convention, did more to make ioney question the storm ce we old greenbackers and people's party men have done in twenty years.

Chief Connolly Offers a Reward and the Detective Department Searches for the Assailants.

Captain Henry Jennings, of the police orce, was attacked by a bold highwayman late Saturday night.

The assault occurred on Decatur street, near Loyd, about 10 o'clock. Only one person saw the captain fall, and no one apears to know the assailant. The supposition, however, is that he was negro. He approached his victim from ehind, and while the officer was cros the street ignorant of his impending dar ger, the segro struck him a terrific blow with some hard implement, supposed to be brass knucks, immediately under the left eye, and the captain fell to the pavement to suffer terribly. His face was badly swollen and his nose led freely. He was laid on a cot in the drill room and Dr. Wright was hastily sumnoned. After a careful examination of the Was After Crap Shooters.

Officer Bates, whose beat is on Decatur treet, between Loyd and Pryor, had disovered two negro men shooting craps in the stairway of the Imperial theater, about the middle of the block. He entered the door and both the negroes ran east, taking different sides of the street. Captain Jennings had been out in the city ooking after his men, and at the time the negroes ran he was standing beside a lamp post directly in front of the Excelsion laundry. He saw one of the negroes running on the opposite side and started across the street to head him off. He had no aken three steps when he was knocked to

When last seen she had left her usband's place of business at 478 Decatur street, stating she was going back to her daughter's. She never arrived, however, It appears, though, that Mrs. Dial lost her way on her return and was unable to find Edgewood avenue, where she was to take the car. She therefore turned back to Decatur street, where she spent the night, and was found the next morning.

FETED THEIR CAPTAIN.

Members of the Capital City Guards

Honor Captain Parks. On last Tuesday evening, at their armory, the members of the Capital City Guards presented their captain, W. J. Parks, with a wedding present in the shape of a handsome cut glass service. The oc-casion was a reception given to the cap-tain and his bride, whose former home was n Birmingham, Ala.

gether with many friends of the couple, and all joined in extending their congratulations. Master of cerentoies, Lieutenant W. W. Barker, in a few well chosen remarks, introduced the orator of the occasion, Mr. D. P. Waites, of Company B. who delivered the present with a short speech eulogizing the many meritorious qualities of the recipient.

Captain Parks, in responding, spoke feelingly of his connection with the company, both as a lieutenant and as its command-ing officer, and of the very pleasant rela-tions which the officers and members have always sustained toward each other.

UNDER THE SOD OF OAKLAND. Funeral of Mrs. Mary Neal Occurred

Yesterday Afternoon. The funeral of Mrs. Mary Neal, widow and the interment was at Oakland cemetery.

The funeral exercises were largely attended and the church was filled with sorrowing friends who followed the casket to its last resting place.

Mrs. Neal was the mother of Mr. T. B. Neal, Mrs. L. A. Pittman and Mrs. John Keely and Mrs. E. H. Thornton. She was a consistent member of the Methodist church for sixty-eight years. She was eighty-one years of age at the time of her death. You Are Not "Shaken Before Taken"

WHAT GREAT MEN HAVE SAID ABOUT SILVER. IN SEARCH OF BIDS

From Eugene V. Brewster in The Brooklyn Citizen.
Chairman Kelly, republican, said in 1879: "I was the chairman of the committee who reported the original bill (that demon-etized silver in 1873) and I aver on my onor that I did not know the fact that it proposed to drop the standard dollar, and did not learn that it had done it for eight-teen months after the passage of the bill, when I disputed the fact and was shown

Senator Allison, republican, said in 1878: "When the secret history of this bill of 1873 coumes to be toir it will disclose the fact that the bill as presented to the house of representatives intended to coin both gold and silver, and intended to place both metals upon the French relation instead of our own, which was the true scientific position in reference to this sub ect in 1873, but that bill afterwards was

Alexander Hamilton "To annul the use of either of the metals as money is to abridge the quantity of circulating medium and is liable to all the ob-lections which arise from a comparison of the benefits of a full with the evils of he scanty circulation

Senator William H. Stewart: "I regret to be called upon to : nswe the idiotic assertions which are frequently made with regard to the United States be ming the dumping ground for silver They say, for example, that the speculator would buy silver in China and Japan for $5 cents an ounce, and sell it to our mint, for $1.29. Everybody knows that the price of silver always will be, and from necessity must be, the same in every part of the world, less the difference of exchange.

Dr. Otto Arendt, the famous European "With respect to the possible candidates, bimetallists, taking McKinley to be a thor-ough silver man, certainly regarded him with much favor. What sad disappoint ment, however, with the St. Louis conver tion! It was obvious that the spirit of that convention was inspired by Wall street, while McKinley himself deserted the people's cause and closed an alliance, offensive and defensive, with all-grasping capital Heaven-high above him, unfettered and un mercenary, rose Bryan, who at once gained would unhesitatingly vote for the people's champion. A free coinage president seems resident, who would walk in Cleveland's footsteps. "I stand with Jefferson and tell them as he did that the issue of money is the func-tion of the government, and that the gov-ernment ought not to go out of the banking business, but that the banks ought to go out of the governing business."

President Andrews, of Brown university:
"With free coinage every industry would look up and our prosperity would invite in English capital, just as Japan's prosperity now causes the rush there." John G. Carlisle said in 1876: "Mankind will be fortunate indeed if the innual production of gold and silver coince shall keep pace with the annual increase of population and industry." James G. Blaine said in 1878: "I believe the struggle now going on in is country and other countries for a single gold standard would, if successful, pro ice widespread disaster in and throughout the commercial world." General Sherman said in 1869: "The contraction of the currency is a ar more distressing operation than senators suppose. Out own and other nations ave gone through the operation before It is not possible to take that voyage with-out sore distress. To every person, ex-cept a capitalist out of debt and a salaried officer, it means loss, danger, lassitude of rade, fall of wages, suspension of enterprise, bankruptcy and disaster.' Senator John T. Morgan:

"The decree of the republican party at St Louis, that gold shall be the exclusive money of redemption and the sole legal basis of all contracts, public and private, now existing or hereafter to exist, sinks to the hearts of the industrial class, like a roughly sharpened knife. It seeks to impose upon them additional burdens of taxation, to pay unlimited issues of bonds, and as a part of this trouble it proposes to increase the cost of all manufactured goods that these classes are compelled to through the readoption of the McKinley plan of taxation-these twin blunderers."

Daniel Webster: "I am certainly of the opinion that gold and silver, at rates fixed by congress, con-stitute the legal standard of value in this country, and that neither congress nor any state has authority to establish any other standard, or to displace this."-

Constitution of the United States:
"No state shall make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of dehts Congress shall have power to coin oney and regulate the value thereof. John G. Carlisle: "The act of 1873 was the most gigantic crime of this or any other age. * * * The consummation of such a scheme would ultimately entail more misery upon the human race than all the wars, pestilence and

This raised the value of all the products of abor, and has already been the cause of greatly increased prosperity throughout the west and south." W. J. Arkell, in Judge, September 27,

"As law recognized silver as the standard of value, as law again acknowledged gold as a standard, so law again today, by the passing of the silver bill by the congress of 1890, establishes and recognizes silver on a parity with gold. The beneficent resuits of this enactment cannot well at present be measured. Silver is no longer an exile, but has returned to the society from which it was driven. Its old pur-chasing power has been resumed and hun-dreds of millions are added to our resources. England, which heretofore use $1 worth of gold to buy $1.20 of silver, paying it out with a 20 per cent profit to Hindoostan, China, and the silver-receiving nations of the world, will now have to pay $1 for $1. This raises or will raise the value of all the products of labor. The farmer will feel it in the increased price of his crops and the manufacturer in the enhanced value of his wares. The republican party, redeeming its promises with one hand, lifts into the light of the silver sheen the downcast face of the tiller of the soil and casts the same cheery shimmer on all the labor of the land."

W. H. Greenfell, president general counw. H. Greenfeil, president general council of the Bimetaillic League of England:

County Commissioners Want Bids for the Proposed Jail.

WORK BEGINS IN SIXTY DAYS Building Will Be Erected on the But ler Street Lot.

TOTAL COST MUST NOT EXCEED $175.000

As Soon as the Contract Is Let the Work Will Be Commenced Within a Few Months.

At the expiration of sixty days from today work on the new county jail will be commenced and a large force of hands will e placed at work upon the Butler street lot to grade the new site for the heavy tone foundations. This morning the county com advertise for bids for the erection of the rison, and at the same time a number of advertisements will appear in various architectural and industrial journals hroughout the United States. On account of the natural location of the jail lot but little grading will be necessary. The lot has been occupied by the old Eclectic college for many years, and when this college was erected the lot was graded and made smooth. Where the college stood in former years the jail will now be built. The bids that will be received by the ssioners for the erection of the jail nust not exceed $175,000, and the specifica ions and printed instructions to bidders state that the price to be paid by the propriated for this purpose.

"My plan," said Mr. Wilkins when h vas explaining the drawings to the board on Saturday, "have been prepared with the price as one of the first things to be considered. I have been able to give the county all that is needed for many years o come, and the cost will not exceed th amount appropriated. In the construction of my plans I have been careful, first, to make the cells safe and substantial, with all the light and ventilation necessary. Ever jail will be made upon the most modern and approved style." How the New Jail Will Appear. On account of the number of plans that ave been considered and the subsequer agitation of the matter, much interest has been taken by the public in the efforts

The jailer's home, with all necessary apartments, will be in the front part of the ouilding. In this portion will also be the rooms of record, the examination rooms and the jailer's private office. The front view of the biulding will giv no idea of a prison, and no bars will be seen from the Butler street entrance. The prisoners will be received in the jail yard, and in order to accomplish this the prison van will pass through a large gate and pass under a portion of the building, un-loading the prisoners within the jail walls. Around the sides and rear of the building will be a tall stone wall. The outer side of the wall will be ornamental, while the inner side will be smooth so that the pris oners cannot climb from the yard and es cape in the event they were ever to escape from the building.

The jail proper, or rather that portion which will be occupied with the cells, will be arranged in four wings, and will be just in the rear of the jailer's offices. The cells will be placed in tiers and arrange ments have been made so that the guards will be able to walk back and forth and around the cells, so that every movement of the occupants can be noted at every moment of the day and night Commissioners Are Well Pleased.

The commissioners are well-pleased with the work of Mr. Wilkins and the plans were approved without a single change or suggestion being made.
"We have just what we have been wanting," said Commissioner Forrest Adair yesterday, "and I don't think there is any thing else that could be possibly adde

"We wanted to get a jail where sur foundation of the plans, and this we have in the drawings submitted by Mr. Wilkins "Work will be commenced within sixty days from Monday and the contract will be signed November 26th. The law requires that the advertisement for bids must be published sixty days, otherwise we would be ready to begin work. The deed to the Butler street lot is in the name of the county, and we have a sufficient amount of money now on hand to begin the work."

Delivered a Sermon Especially Intended for Church Members.

SAYS DIVORCE SUITS ARE TOO FREQUENT

Dr. Vail Preached an Interesting Sermon at the Church of Our Father. At Other Churches.

Dr. W. W. Landrum preached to a crowded house at the First Baptist church yes-terday morning on the subject of "Christ's Own," The termon was especially directed Own," The cermon was especially directed to church members. The house was crowd-ed to the doors and chairs were required

Dr. Landrum stated in the introductory remarks that love was one of the founda tions of Christ's kingdom upon carth. It was this solid foundation that had caused this kingdom to last while other principali-ties perished and crumbled with time.

'Napoleon said while he was confined upon the solitary isle of St. Helena," said preacher, "that Caesar had founded and established a great principality and had made great triumphs, but there was a greater than Caesar. Christ had established a kingdom founded upon love, and mil-ions who had sworn allegiance to their king would die for Him s this kind of a kingdom that I am going to talk to you all about this morning," said Dr. Landrum, "and my subject is 'Christ's Own.' You have heard mothers and in heaven, and there is always some and in heaven, and there is always some-thing so pathetic and touching in their words that impress you as you listen. They will say that they love their chil-dren who are with them on earth, but when they refer to those who have died and passed beyond, they speak more tenderly and affectionately about them than they do of the living. with Christ, for He loves with a love that abideth to the end. Glorious truth He loveth to the end. And He loves those on earth more than He does those who are with him. He gives His greatest love to those who need it most and His great lov continues as long as life lasts and then it

In the course of his sermon Dr. Landrum spoke at length upon the great number of divorce suits now being filed in the courts, showing that human love grows cold, while the divine love never dies.

"Since my return to my native state, Georgia, the state that gave me birth and tha contains the ashes of my father and grand father," said he, "I have found one thin that causes me sorrow and pain. I see that families are being divided and the mar-riages performed by the ministers are being put asunder by the civil courts, I see wives suing for divorces and I see husbands do-ing the same thing. The courts are teeming with divorce suits. It was not thus wit your mothers and fathers and my mother and father. They would not look upon the face of a man or woman in their day who had been divorced, and everywhere they met one of this class they would give then the back of their hand. "Mothers, listen to me: Teach your boy and your girl when they are young to love each other and love God. Boys who 12 friends may become foes in manhood, Girls who lock arms and love in youth may pass each other with scorn and a contemptuous smile when they reach maturity. Teach them what is love and tell them as they kneel at your feet that Christ's love never dies and lives to the end."

At the close of the sermon Dr. Landrum urged the members of hie church to attend Wednesday evening prayer meeting, r," said he, "it is in the prayer meeting that you can best learn of the great love of God. God pities the poor sinner. Pity is what is given by the superior to he inferior. This is what comes from a lofty plane to the man on the low plane It was not so with Jesus Christ. He di not simply pity the poor sinner while He remained in heaven, but He came down to pathy is what we give when we place ourselves in the place occupied by the one with whom we sympathize."

Dr. Landrum preached last night to a large congregation and announced that he would make a short address Wednesday evening to the members of his church.

Church of Our Father.

Rev. W. S. Vall took for a text the destand firm in the liberty of their nev endowment as followers of Jesus. He said the quest'on of what our children should be taught to believe about the acvi was brought freshly before the mind by the panic in a New York public school which had attracted the attention of mos people; for the word was whispered around that the devil was about to take bodily form, and was then lurking in the build ing, and a general rush, with children trampled under foot, with a scare that came near sweeping the neighborhood into its train, was the result.

The speaker, following psychologists like tanley Hall, claimed that the child life Stanley Hall, claimed that the child life runs the gamut of experience from the lower forms of religious thinking to the higher; that there is a point when nearly all children are for a year or more super stitious; that a constant agitation had broke on the first occasion when i was fully developed.

The children reverted, he said, 290 years; Briggs and the higher criticism went out of the window; Martin Luther, who fought the devil with inkstands, was the man whose theology was uppermost.

He reviewed our modern history and our literature that belonged to the earlier period, to show that the people believed in a physical, evil person for so long that the boy is apt to connote this physical shape when you now use the word. He denied that the Bible, by fair interpretation, was mother to the modern idea. Comparative religion showed it to be the other side of what is known as Persian Dualism. From Persia it certainly crept into the Hebrew thought, but was foreign. The Hebrew thought did personify and not literalize the serpent; and he quoted Ruskin's celebrated passage to show that such a personification had a reason for being. But he said you He reviewed our modern history and our had a reason for being. But he said you could not find the Satan of Milton in the Bible at ali.

could not find the Satan of Milton in the Bible at ali.

On the positive side the preacher said he would begin at the most obvious point to warn a youth against his tempter. His tempter, generally his lower self, would usually, succeed only by his own weakness. The first problem was physiological. Students were now showing us that the criminal is morally diseased, and usually physically defective. All reform is being based on this thought, and in our own state we need to consider the fact that a class of younger offenders are sick people, who need a reformatory, and that we impede the cause we would help by indiscriminate mingling of the condemned. He would have a boy realize how closely his soul and his body, and his brain are connected, and how far bodily purity, good hours, absence of vices and the proper treatment of his person will go toward laying the foundation of the noblest life.

Dr. McGlauflin returned Saturday from a six days' trip in Tennessee and preached yesterday morning to the Universalist Congregation.

His themre was "The Need of the Present Time." He declared that this need was for all Christians and church members to assert a more pronounced influence in behalf of the gospel.

Among other things he said that a strong personal influence resulted from a knowledge of the truth; a recognition of the importance of that truth; a feeling of duty to extend the truth; a courage, which like that of Jesus and Paul, never falters, no matter how great the obstacles in the way, of applying the truth to the human heart. These thoughts were elaborately illustrated and emphasized and received the closest attention from the audience, which was alternately moved to smiles and

HOW THE JURY STOOD.

Interesting Facts About the McCullough Case Comes to Light.

Immediately after the trial it was gen

Immediately after the trial it was generally rumored that the vote was eleven to one for acquittal. This, however, seems to be erroneous. It was learned on good authority last night that the jury stood ten for straight-out conviction; one for conviction with recommendation, and one for acquittal. It is said to be this last man who hung the jury.

The vote of the jury is probably the cause of the apparent inaction of the attorneys for the defense. They have never made the stightest effort to secure a new trial for McCullough in Jonesboro, and if present indications count for anything the prisoner will be obliged to remain in the local station house until the next term of court, which does not meet until March.

While Colonel Haden makes no definite answer to the question, yet it is thought he will apply for a change of venue for the next trial. If this is granted the case will, in all probability, be called in Atlanta.

McCullough is still gloomy and despond-

McCuliough is still gloomy and despondent in his cell at the station house. He has evidently heard of the vote of the jury, and it has apparently proved a great surprise and disappointment to him. He seems to be honeful and states his perfect innocence will clear him in the long run.

Mr. Emery McCullough, brother of the prisoner, who has been conducting the defense, ascribes a very unusual reason for the result of the trial.

Mr. McCullough states that Solicitor Hill's speech before the jury is the sole cause of the trisoner's predicament. It is acknowledged by many who heard the solicitor on that occasion that his effort was one of the most brilliant he has ever made.

"You know." said Emery McCullough, "I "You know." said Emery McCullough, "I nonestly believe that if Mr. Hill had not spoken before the jury my brother would have been a free man today. Clayton county has never heard anything like that speech. I actually believe he hypnotized those jurymen. For fully two hours heald them as if by magic by his wonderful eloquence. There was absolutely no vidence to convict my brother and I am confident circumstances would have been without different had it not been for Mr. ntirely different had it not been for Mr

Life Insurance.

THE CASE WAS COMPROMISED

Blalock Alleges That His Brothers Were Coerced Into Accepting Half of the Full Amount.

The interest in life insurance cases has been unusually active of late on account of the many questions which have arisen regarding the payment of certain claims, the validity of which have been questioned of the most interesting legal questions which has lately arisen in a life in surance case is that disclosed in the recen decision by the court of appeals, at New Or-leans,in the case of John T. Blalock, admin-istrator of C. W. Blalock, against the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United

The petition alleges that C. W. Blalock insured his life in said company for $5,000, payable to his brother, W. B. Blalock. W. B. also took a policy in the same company for the same amount, payable to his broth er, C. W. Blalock. At that time both lived in Florida. After having paid the second premium, first one became sick, and then the other, and finally they returned to the old homstead in Upson county, The following claims are set forth in complaintiff's petition:

The insurance company, it is charged sent its agent to get them to cancel their policies, and represented that the company had eveidence of fraud in the procure-

On the first visit the insured refused to compromise or give up the policies. A few days later the same agent took with him another agent and again called on the insured, and insisted on a cancellation of the olicies for the reasons stated, and for the further reasons that the company would fight the payment of the policies to the last court of resort: that the insured would then be dead and unable to meet the charges that would be brought against them; that their estates would be put to great expense and get nothing in the end, and the insured, it is said, both of whom were in a very feeble state of health at that time, were induced to cancel their policies for one-half the face value. One of the insured died two days and the other thirty-five days after this transaction. The administrator brought suit to recover the balance alleged to be due on the face of the policies. The company de-nied liability and demurred to the petition on the ground, among others, that plaintiff had no standing in court until he should tender or pay back the amount received on said compromise settlement. The circuit court sustained this demurrer and dismissed the plaintiff's action, whereupon the plaint-ff appealed the case to the United States ourt of appeals, which court holds that the dismissal of the case was error, and that the judgment in the circuit court should be reversed, with instructions to overrule the demurrer, and to proceed to a trial by jury This decision will prove of interest to all persons interested in life insurance, and the final result of the jury's verdict will be awaited with interest. The plaintiff is rep resented by John L. Hopkins & Sons and Charles Z. Blalock, and the insurance company by King & Spalding Grounds for the Demurrer.

The answer which was filed by the Equi table Assurance Company was based on the following grounds: 1. That the petition of complainant con-tains no cause of action against the defend-

2. That the petition shows that said caus action was compromised and settled for $2,500 and policy surrendered. Also that the plaintiff does not aver that he tendered back to the defendant $2,500 and offered to cancel said settlement, and that defend ant refused to do the same.

The demurrant says that plaintiff canno maintain said action without first tender ing back and offering to cancel said agree nent of compromise set forth in said pe

3. Because the plaintiff seeks to invoke the jurisdiction of equity to account for $2.500 and to ca ompromise, which is essentially necessary in any action upon said policies. That the court in which suit is brought and cannot maintain jurisdiction of this matter of equitable cognizance Insurance Company's Answer.

Without waiving this demurrer, the defendant answers said petition as follows: 1. It denies so much of paragraph one as stated that defendant is indebted to petitioner $2,500, or any other sum.

2. It admits that on July 22d it issued a policy as stated in paragraph two, of said petition, but denies that the policy attached is a copy thereof.

3. Defendant is without sufficient informa tion to admit or deny allegations of para-4--10. It denies the allegations of paragraphs 1 to 10. 11. It denies allegations of paragraph 11, except that the party accepted $2,500 in full settlement of said policy and signed the agreement surrendering said policy, and avers that the policy was duly, lawfully and fairly surrendered.

12. Defendant has not sufficient information to admit or deny paragraph 12. Defendant denies allegations of paragraph 13, except the statement that policy was surrendered.

14--16.—It denies allegations contained in paragraphs 14, 15 and 16. 17. It saith that petitioner is not entitled to the judgment claimed in paragraph 17. or any part thereof, and prays judgment in favor of defendant. The case will come up for trial at the next term of the United States circuit court, which begins October 1st.

SAVANNAH TO MANCHESTER.

Managers of the Ship Canal Company Visit the Georgia City. Savannah, Ga., September 20.—(Special.)—Mr. Marshall Stevens, manager of the Manchester ship canal, the party, consisting of C. C. Harvey and James L. Hall, arrived n the city yesterday morning in company with President G. G. Purse, of the board o trade. They were given a reception at the city exchange yesterday morning, after which they were taken down the river and along the water front on the pilot boat J. H. Mr. Stevens was very much pleased with the prospect and thinks there should be no trouble in establishing a line of steamers between Savannah and Manchester. CLAIMS EVERY CENT WHY WATSON WAITS THEY WANT REPAIRS the Far West.

Will Try To Have Populists Reconsider Previous Action.

GEORGIA POPULISTS CRY FOR HIS RETURN

Declare That He Had Engagements To Speak in Behalf of the State Campaign.

Will Tom Watson return today or continue his work of demolition in the west?

Chairman Cunningham has put the question to himself and populists over the whole state are anxiously awaiting the next turn of their candidate.

The managers have slated Watson to speak in the state campaign every day next week. In the meantime he is lifting his voice in the west, and making hay for the populist crib while the lamp holds out to burn. Watson is bent upon a work of destruction. It was his mission when he left Georgia two weeks ago. Upon the plea that he had an engagement in Texas to speak at a great labor gathering Watson left Georgia. It was the idea of those in charge of the state campaign that he would return immediately, but not so with Watson and not so with H. W. Reed, ex-national banker and chairman of the national finance committee.

Watson's speech was delivered in Texas. He caused a sensation by the empha nunciation of Sewall. It was while in Texas that Watson was notified by the letter of Senator Marion Butler that he had been named at St. Louis as the candidate for vice president. The tone of awful solemnity n this formal declaration from the North Carolina senator seemed to embolden Wat son and off he went on through Kansas and up to the native heath of Bryan.

The people—the modest, peace-loving populists of the west—wondered at the sudden appearance of the populist from Georgia. It is said that Senator Allen has discour-aged his coming, as he knew it would in-terfere with the programme of fusion already fixed on by the populists and democrats. Other leaders on both sides feared the complications that would result from both sides feared the visit of Watson.

Watson has made his appeal to the middle of the roaders. He told them to stand firm with him and with the southern populists n the refusal to fuse unless Sewall was withdrawn. He called on them to stand to him, as he was the only true leader of the party

The efforts of Watson have not been without effect. Fusion that was established in Nebraska is threatened. The democrats declare that Watson is willing to knife Bryan in the back to secure the withdrawal of Arthur Sewall. The Georgian is pouring his ammunition into all of the western fusion states. He is now in Colorado. Mr. Watson has set about to undo what the populists of the west have already done. He is urging the middle of the roaders in all the wester states where fusion has been accomplished to repudiate any former action and stand for the candidacy of Bryan and Watson èlectors alone His Return to Georgia.

Mr. Watson is expected back in this state today. That he will not be here, however is assured. He has engagements to speak in Georgia almost every day this week, but it is thought that he will remain in the west and tote his own skillet for the present.

COVINGTON DEMOCRATIC RALLY Congressman Livingston and Others Address the Voters. Covington, Ga. September 20 -- (Special.)-

A democratic rally extensively advertised was held here yesterday and speeches were made by Hon. L. F. Livingston, L. L. Middlebrooks, Dr. J. A. Stewart and Robert L. Hardeman Colonel Livingston began his speech a 10 o'clock in the morning at the courthouse, with about three hundred voters present

He spoke at length, making a number of strong points in favor of free and unlimited coinage of silver. He urged the people to stand firm for the regular democratic nomnees and explained fully Governor At-Colonel Livingston was frequently interrupted by loud and enthusiastic applause.

After Colonel Livingston had concluded, Hon. L. Middlebrooks, elector for the fifth district, was introduced by the chair-man, Colonel Si W. Hawkins. Colonel Middlebrooks made a good speech in favor of democratic doctrines.

Dr. J. A. Stewart, candidate for state senator, followed in a short address. "Uncle" Bob Hardeman then spoke. He indersed the speech made by Colonel Liv-ingston in every particular and said the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver had been in every democratic platform ever since there was a democratic party. He said that he at one time thought Atkinson made a mistake in refusing to ac-cept the soldiers' home, but that he was now convinced that the governor did exactly right. Had he accepted the home the soldiers would have received this year only about $15,000, whereas they have been paid $129,000, and next year, if the law is carried out, they will receive $240,000. He said when he went into the state treasury years ago the annual interest on the debt was $810,000, while today it is only

$363,000 onel Livingston will speak at Logans-

ville on September 26th. REPUBLICANS FOR ATKINSON. Wayne County Mass Meeting In-dorses the Governor. Jesup, Ga., September 20 .- (Special.)-The epublicans of Wayne county met in mass neeting here yesterday.

A. W. Wimberly, of Augusta, Ga., rived on the early train from Savannah, He was not here by appointment, but when the republicans learned that he was in town he was invited to address the meeting. He poke for more than an hour and urged the republicans to support McKinley and Ho-bart for president and vice president, but when it came to the state election, he urged them to support W. Y. Atkinson for go

His eulogy of Governor Atkinson and his administration was eloquent. He told the negroes that any of them who would not vote for Governor Atkinson did not appreciate the friend to the colored race. His speech was considered to be one of the best political speeches ever delivered in this county by a colored man.

The meeting indorsed McKinley and Hobart for president and vice president. The convention also enthusiastically indorsed Governor Atkinson and his administration and pledged their votes to him in the Octo-her election. At least 75 per cent of the ber election. At least 75 per cent of the negroes of this county will vote for Governor Atkinson. The convention did not make any other indorsements but is understood to favor Mr. Poppell, the democratic nominee, for representative.

A Monster Bird.

Rocky Ford, Ga., September 20.—(Special.)
There is on exhibition at the postofhee at Rocky Ford, the foot of a monster bird of the eagle species. The bird measured seven feet from tip to tip, and was of a dark brown color: the talons on the foot are about one and three-quarter inches iong.
This is the second eagle of the kind killed in the nelghborhood. One was captured some years ago near this place, while feasting upon a year-old hog which it had killed. This second one was killed by Dr. C. O.
Smith. The eagle was flying over him above the tops of the trees, but the doctor cut him down with No. 8 bird shot. The farmers, of the vicinity will present the doctor with a gold medal in token of their appreciation of his good work in destroying so great an enemy to pigs and young lambs.

Williams on Atkinson. Mr. Eb T. Williams, vice chairman of the campaign committee, urges the young democrats of Fulton to come forward in active support of Governor Atkinson. Following is a strong appeal made by Mr. Williams: "Georgia never had a brayer or better overnor than W. Y. Atkinson. "True to his friends and his enemies, there no 'milk and cider' in his makeup. aidas, with his Spartan band, never had Leonidas, with his Spartan band, never had more dash and courage, and no Roman ever had more cool and placid fortitude. Whenever duty calls, he is there and there to stay immovable as the rock of Gibraltar.

"No man or set of men have carried him in their 'pockets' and shaped his administration; it has been Atkinson from beginning to end, as he conceived his duty to our great and prosperous state.

"I. His administration stands for law and order. He has used every means in his power to suppress mob law and lynchings, and he has thrown the strong arm of the law around every citizen of the state to the extent of his ability.

"2. He has literally purged the convict system of Georgia, and God knows it needed it as badly as cleaning in the Augean stables. What was everybody's business was nobody's, and we have heard for years of the rottenness and cruelty of the Georgia penitentiary.

"3. His work in the interest of education in Georgia is a monument to his administration, and his untriving efforts at Mil-

"2. His work in the interest of education in Georgia is a monument to his administration, and his untiring efforts at Milledgeville, in the interest of education for young women, have been crowned with a success of which any man might feel proud. In every branch of education he has been a potent factor for good.

"4. He has exercised his pardoning power under the law with a careful and unswerving devotion to his duty as he conceived it. He did not please everybody: neither did Christ, the perfect man. Having served two years with him in the house of representatives and on the general judiciary committee. I cannot doubt his sincerity, for I know him to be honest and true to his conviction.

"5. Governor, Atkinson country not to lose know him to be honest and true to his convictions.

"S. Governor Atkinson ought not to lose a vote on account of prohibition being brought into this campaign. Bishoo Haygood, the greatest representative of Methodism of his day, said that prohibition should not be tacked on to any political party, and the cause of temperance should trumph on its merits. Dr. Warren A. Candler, president of Emory college and one of the most brilliant and brainya.

Candler, president of Emory college and one of the most brilliant and brainya.

Candler, president of prohibition is too sacred to be linked with the fate of a political party. Besides, it is true democracy to let each county govern its own affairs. It was the transcendent idea of Jefferson that sovereignty resided in the people and that local self-government was the supreme genius of our institutions. We have local option now. Can we improve on this line by voting for Seaborn Wright and populism? I think not seaborn Wright and populism?

voting for Seaborn Wright and I think not.

I think not.

"6. He is the nominee of the democratic party and every 'weak-kneed' democrat should rally to his standard. As vice chairman of the comparing committee of the man of the campaign committee of the Young Men's Democratic League, I urge the fourteen hundred young democrats to organize in every ward in the city, every district in the county, and give our gallant courageous standard bearer 5,000 majority in Fulton county. EB T. WILLIAMS."

STONE MOUNTAIN'S AMBITION.

County Seat There. Mountain, Ga., September 20.—(Sp cial.)-At their las tmeeting the county commissioners for this, DeKalb, county, levied a tax in addition to the regular state and county tax of $5 on $1,000, for the purpose of building a new courthouse. To say the tax payers are pleased would be putting it lightly. The question of petitioning the ordinary to call an election at an early date looking toward removing the county seat to this place is being strongly advo-cated. In fact, a mass meeting was held at this place yesterday and committees were appointed to solicit names to the petition and to set forth the superior inducements to be offered by the citizens of Stone Moun-tain in locating the courthouse here. It is claimed that the courthouse can be built here for one-third less than at Decatur. It would be built of DeKalb county granite, and this would be given the county by the Messrs, Venable, who own all the granite here, as well as a large interest at Lithonia. Several years ago this same question of removal was voted on, but Stone Mountain failed to get the required two-thirds of the seat to this place is being strongly advo failed to get the required two-thirds of the votes cast. Since that time the minds of a number of the voters on removal has unonfident that she can get the two-thirds majority.

Crops Are Damaged.

Crops Are Damaged.

Montezuma, Ga., September 20.—(Special.)
Throughout Macon and adjoining counties the severe drought continues, with very warm weather. The effect upon all vegetation is most disastrous, and now pastures alone would be benefited by rain. Cotton is about all open, and many fields have been picked. Picking is being pushed with all possible dispatch. The entire crop will be secured by October the first. The late crop is ruined. Corn is being housed and is said to be an average crop. The pea crop is very poor, and farmers will scarcely get back the seed. Cane and potatoes are almost an entire failure, as a rule. Gardens have been completely ruined. Pastures are badly parched, but would be revived by good soaking rains. Stock is not doing well. Many streams are dry, and springs and wells are failing.

A little blue-eyed woman with long, wavy hair and tear-bedimmed eyes walked into the Grady hospital last night and asked or a home. Her mind is demented and her lentity is a mystery.

She will not give her name. The woman oes not appear to know where she came from or where she is going. She has no baggage and no money, and states she has no relatives here or anywhere else. It is probable she is the victim of a cruel desertion by her people, auxious to get rid of her, or she has run away from It is certain, however, the unfortunate woman does not live in Atlanta. She ap-peared at the carshed at 7 o'clock last night and is supposed to have got off either a West Point or Seaboard Air-Line train, which arrived at that hour.

The unknown woman walked to a hack-

Taken to the Station House. As the woman was not ill the hospital authorities decided she was not a subject or them. Consequently the police were otified and Officer Tysor took her to the tation house.

The officers questioned her also, but with the same result. She was either unable or obstinately refused to give any facts concerning her identity. She was locked the lunatics' cell last night and will be held until her people are found or some proper disposition has been made of her. The authorities are rather of the opinion that the woman has been shipped to At-

It is probable that the woman has been cruelly deserted in her misfortune, by her own people who are tired of the burden, and wilfully placed her at the disposal of the city. There is no doubt about the insanity of Miraculous Escape.

Ellijay. Ga., September 20.—(Special)—Mr. Math Bennett and his little son were traveling on horseback along the Ducktown road. At the Dillingham hluff, where the road winds around a precipice, above the Ellijay river, the horse that the boy rode became frightened and ran over the bluff and rolled over and over fifty feet or more down to the river, where it lodged against a sycamore tree. The boy fortunately fell off and caught to some shrubbery about half way down the bluff and was not much hurt. The horse was somewhat shaken up but no bones broken. It was a wonderful escape.

Captain Lyman Hall, the new president of the school, has worked hard all during the summer and has succeeded in advertising the institution all over the south. The people of this section of the country probably know more about the school now than they do about any other school in this state. As a result of the advertising that has been given the school, President Lyman Hall is in receipt of an unusually large number of applications for admission. Almost every southern state will be represented and there will be more boys from Geor

There is room in the two dormitories for only forty-three students, but notwith standing this fact. President Hall is in reeipt of applications from fifty-five young ries. In order to accommodate this unusually large number it has been necessary to rent rooms in the neighborhood of the school and furnish them for the use of the young men who cannot get rooms in the gia at the school than ever before

About seventeen young men will live in cooms near the school and eat at the dormitories. The furniture with which these rooms will be furnished will be used next year in a new dormitory for which an appropriation will be received this fall.

Captain Hall believes that he has clearly lemonstrated the fact that the dermitories are a success and thinks that there is every reason to believe he will receive an ppropriation with which to erect another ormitory building.

President Hall does not know just exacthow many students will enter the school on its opening day but believes that the number will be as large, if not larger, than t has ever been. He has received hundred of letters from people who have sons to send to school, inquiring about the advantages to be had at the "Tech." He has answered all these letters and if all the young me who have promised to attend the school do so, he will open this year with the largest number that ever attended the in-

Mr. Jones is a graduate from the "Tech" and since his graduation has had much experience. He was selected out of a large number of fine teachers, and the commis-sioners of the school feel sure that he will fill the place with honor to himself and the institution from which he graduated. Professor Wood graduated with hono from the Central University of Virginia and has had four years' experience as a teacher in several of the best known southern colleges. He is highly recommended. Besides being a well-known teacher, Professor Wood has made a fine record for himself as an athlete. TO PREVENT THE SALE.

Georgia Mining Case Will Be Argued in New York This Morning.

The petition for injunction in the Geor gia Mining, Manufacturing and Investment company will be argued in New York this morning.
Attorney Clifford Anderson and Receiver

Julius Brown are now in New York, and they will take part in the argument. Mr. Anderson represents the Lowry Banking Company and Mr. Brown is the receiver of the company.

In the event the injunction is denied, it is said the case will be appealed to the circuit court of New York and the sale of the tock of the company will be fought through the New York courts to the end.
The sale of stock had been advertised to be sold on September 16th. Judge Lumpkin enied an injunction to prevent its sale, laiming that he lacked jurisdiction in he matter. A petition was then filed in New York and this is set for a hearing day, postponing the sale of stock until the 23rd, which is next Wednesday. Even nough the petition for injunction should be denied, it is thought that the sale will be stopped for the present, at least, as the case is to be appealed to a higher court.

A Change in the Route.

Camilla, Ga., September 20.—(Special.)— it is probable that the mail route between Newton and Camilla will be discontinued on October 31st, unless there is something done to prevent it. It is proposed to establish a route from Duckers station, on the Blakely extension, to Newton. This will make it necessary to carry mail about twenty miles by private conveyance instead of ten, as is now the case. Only a small per cen, of the Newton people desire the route changed.

Street Car Companies May Be Required To Put Fenders on Cars.

DECISION OF THE COMMITTEE

Council Will Consider the Matter Today on a Report from the Electric Railroad Committee.

The street car companies will be required to equip the trolley cars of the city with fenders if a resolution, to be offered by the electric railroad committee, is adopted by the council today.

The committee has decided to recommend that the street car companies be required to put on fenders in order to test their worth. It is claimed by some that the fenders are not an entire success. The uncil committee thinks that it would be well for the car companies to put on a number of fenders to prove the assertion f those who say that fenders have been successfully tried elsewhere or else demon-strate the impracticability of the devices. The electric railroad committee, Cour man J. A. Miller, chairman, met rester-day morning and agreed to report to the council a resolution to the effect stated. The paper will be prepared and presented by Mr. Miller tomorrow. The matter has been pending some time and several meetngs have been held by the electric railroa mittee, at which the matter was co sidered. Many citizens have requested the committee to urge that fenders he put on n order that better protection may be guar anteed to human life.

Mr. Joel Hurt, of the Consolidated, appeared before the committee several weeks ago, and he stated that his company would be ready to adopt fenders at any time they were preven to be a success. Mr. Hurt said that his company had experimented with a number of devices and fenders de-signed to save human life, but that rone of the experiments had demonstrated that the fenders were successful.

Mr. Martin Amorous, of the Atlanta Traction Company, states that his company is ready and willing to put on fenders, and some time ago one of the company's cars was fitted up with a fender and an experiment made in the presence of the ommittee on electric railroads, ut is said that the experiment was satisfactory and that the fenders caught up a dummy man while running rapidly. Chairman Miller says that his commit tee has a number of letters and communi-cations from officials of other cities where fenders are in use on the electric cors. Some say that the fenders are successful.
